

Download Global Environment Outlook 2000

A global environmental assessment process, the GEO Process, that is cross-sectoral and participatory. It incorporates regional views and perceptions, and builds consensus on priority issues and actions through dialogue among policy-makers and scientists at regional and global levels.' From the Synthesis Global Environment Outlook 2000 (GEO-2000) is a comprehensive and authoritative review and analysis of environmental conditions around the world. It is the flagship publication of the world's leading environmental organization, the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), and is based on information provided by more than 30 regional and international collaborating centres. The book presents a region-by-region analysis of the state of the world's environment ...Analyses both global and regional issues: key finding is that the continued poverty of the majority of the planet's inhabitants and excessive consumption by the minority are the two major causes of environmental degradation.An overview of environmental policy instruments and action around the world, this text presents an analysis of the conditions of the global environment, highlighting key global concerns and making recommendations for policy action. Chapter one describes the environmental impact of social and, Global Environment Outlook 2000.

Other Files :

Global Environment Outlook 2000,