The Roubaix was designed with the goal of creating one of the lightest aluminum race bikes on the market. With a frame weight of under 1100g, it sits in an elite class of aluminum road bikes. It's going to be hot and humid. So we wanted to make sure that folks doing the 90 know that they can access the second food/water stop before going out to do the loop north of 204. The Paris–Roubaix is a one-day professional men's bicycle road race in northern France, starting north of Paris and finishing in Roubaix, at the border with Belgium. Roubaix Group Ltd was founded and is run by experienced property investor Chris Beckerman. Chris is a Chartered Surveyor with over 20 years' experience in the field of investment, development and management of UK commercial property, particularly within the retail and shopping centre sector., Roubaix.
